Andrews Federal Credit Union Employees Give Blood to Support the American Red Cross

Suitland, MD (February 27, 2009) – On February 20, 2009, Andrews Federal Credit Union held a blood drive to support the local American Red Cross. According to the Red Cross, blood donations usually decline after the holidays. As a result, there is currently an urgent need to replenish its supply.

“We are always glad to answer the call of the American Red Cross,” says Damita Robinson, Andrews Federal Senior Vice President of Human Resources. “Whenever there is a need for donations, our employees come forward, ready and willing to help those in need.”

Andrews Federal Employees (Samrawit Yohannes, Jennifer Taura, and LaTasha Foster) wait to give blood.

You can donate blood to the Red Cross by contacting your local office or by calling 1.800.GIVE.LIFE.
