Members Win Nintendo Wii™ during Andrews Federal Kid$ Boot Camp Launch

Suitland, MD (June 23, 2009) – Andrews Federal Credit Union awarded three Nintendo Wii™ Sports Game Systems as part of the kick off of its new youth savings program, Kid$ Boot Camp. During the months of April and May, members were entered to win one of three game systems if they made a deposit of at least $50 into their existing or new Kid$ Boot Camp account.

This promotion was part of a greater effort to encourage kids to save and learn about smart money management. The Andrews Federal Kid$ Boot Camp offers tools needed to be financially secure when reaching independence. In addition to a savings account, the Kid$ Boot Camp features a youth website with articles, games, and quarterly newsletters.

“Andrews Federal understands the importance of teaching financial literacy to members of all ages,” says Janine Roberts, Andrews Federal’s Vice President of Marketing. “With this new program, we hope to combine an incentive to save with financial education that helps our young members develop good saving habits for life.”
