$100 Prize Awarded to Andrews Federal Youth Member

Suitland, MD (July 13, 2009) – Andrews Federal Credit Union member, Michelyn Bell, was awarded $100 for her winning entry in CUNA’s C-Note University online photo contest. C-Note posts a photo contest theme each month and registered users, ages 13 – 19, can cast a vote for their favorite photo of the month. $100 cash prizes are given for the contest winner and all monthly winners are entered to win a $1,000 grand prize once per year. The contest is supported by Andrews Federal through the Money Squad youth program.

Michelyn’s photo, “Spirit Week @ TMAPCHS,” was submitted in June before she graduated from Thurgood Marshall Academy Public Charter High School in Washington, DC. Michelyn will attend college soon and deposited the $100 into her Andrews Federal savings account to pay for books.

“Andrews Federal uses the C-Note University program and other financial tools to engage our youth in learning about financial literacy. This contest is just one way to help make financial literacy fun,” says Suzanne Curren, Andrews Federal Director of Public Relations & Community Development. “We are also updating our website so teen members can ask questions about financial topics, submit articles to publish in our new teen newsletter and talk about money issues unique to them through our ‘O.M.G.’ youth blog.”
