1st Armored Division recognizes Andrews Federal Credit Union

Suitland, MD (August 21, 2008) – Andrews Federal Credit Union was presented with a certificate of appreciation and a "Task Force Iron Sentinel" coin by Colonel James L. McGinnis, Jr., First Armored Division Support Command "Task Force Iron Sentinel" at Wiesbaden Army Garrison, Germany. The organization was recognized for its support of the soldiers and families at Wiesbaden Army Garrison, Germany. Cynthia Alvarado, Regional Manager, proudly accepted the awards on behalf of the credit union.

Andrews Federal Credit Union has served the Wiesbaden Army community since 1968. They sponsor a variety of events for the soldiers and their families including holiday parties, retirement award ceremonies and other events. The credit union also offers financial education by way of classes to the base community, interactive sessions via their online Education Center and free financial counseling through an international toll-free number.

Andrews Federal continues to provide loan and deposit products that are specially tailored to the military lifestyle. "We want to assist the soldiers and families of our community with their overall financial readiness so they do not have to worry about money matters while they are away serving their country," stated Cynthia Alvarado, Regional Manager.
